

Foodservice Workers Brave Extreme Heat to Train at DSFS

On August 2nd a group of Foodservice Employees undergoing training with Del Tech came to the Delaware State Fire School for their Fire Safety Orientation.

Under the direction of class coordinator Sandy Faulkner a group of 28 students braved the 100-degree heat and high humidity to learn Fire Extinguisher and Kitchen Fire Safety training. Once the classroom lecture was completed all students enthusiastically extinguished fires at the extinguisher pad. They also were exposed to the use of a fire hose. The class then returned inside to complete their kitchen fire safety training.

Instructors Frank Ballek, Sr., Dottie Barber and Training Administrator Mike Lowe were all involved in the presentation of the class.
